

CUMBERLAND'S LAND-FILL DUMP UNCERTAIN NOW

Cumberland Twp. Supervisors Saturday afternoon at their meeting at the home of Secretary Walter F. Cooley, Gettysburg R. 2, received a signed copy of an agreement with the Battlefield Earth Moving Corporation concerning establishment of a land-fill garbage disposal system in the township.

They had also anticipated receiving a petition from residents of the southeastern part of the township opposing establishment of the garbage disposal system but no petition materialized during the two-hour meeting.

At the same time the supervisors were uncertain as to whether the plans to establish the garbage disposal system which would serve Gettysburg as well as Cumberland Twp. were still in operation or whether they had been abandoned.

Project In Doubt

Russell Maitland, president of Battlefield Earthmovers, had returned the agreement to the supervisors, with Secretary Cooley receiving it a week ago.

The agreement calls for the operation of a sanitary land fill disposal system on the 87-acre farm once owned by Lawrence Shriver. The agreement provides for a one-year license, subject to extension for two additional one-year periods. It also provides that the license is terminable at the will of supervisors, that the supervisors have the right to inspect or send someone to inspect the establishment at any time and under any circumstances, and that the establishment must be operated in accordance with state regulations and that the supervisors have the right to close it at any time they may feel that it is offensive or damaging to surrounding areas.

The supervisors termed the agreement "all in our favor," and held that the sanitary land fill "would help everyone and harm no one," but they do not know if it will be carried out. They said they understood the option on the land given Battlefield Earthmoving had terminated last week, but did not know if any attempt had been made to restore it.

May Need New Agreement

They also said they had heard rumors Maitland was "looking over" some other places, abandoning plans to use the former

CREDITS PSALM CHANTING FOR CHURCH MUSIC

"Praise and adoration, such as is found in the psalms, is the basis of church music," Parker B. Wagnild, head of the music department and director of the Gettysburg College choir, told the combined Sunday School classes of St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. He spoke on "Music in the Bible."

"The psalms, which were chanted, were the forerunners of present day psalms and hymns of the church," Wagnild said. "Jesus and his disciples in the upper room sang a psalm before they went to the garden, and Jesus on the Cross, was repeating a psalm when he said, 'My God, My God, why has Thou forsaken Me,'—a psalm that ends on a note of praise."

"One of the first instances of music in the Bible is when Moses led the people out of Egypt. Being confronted by the Red Sea and with Pharaoh's troops in the rear, the people were desperate, complaining to Moses that at least they were alive in Egypt. With the saving of the people through the parting of the water and the destruction of the Egyptians when the waters closed upon them, Moses broke into song."

First Violence In School Issue

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—White students threw back six negro youths who tried to enter North Little Rock High School today—the first actual violence of Arkansas turbulent racial crisis.

North Little Rock, a separate city, is immediately across the Arkansas River from the integration-torn city of Little Rock.

About 10 white students met the six negroes at the top of the steps leading into the school.

They grabbed the six, hustled and shoved them down the steps and across the campus almost to the street before police broke up the trouble.

None of the negroes suffered injury.

No National Guardsmen were on duty, but six policemen guarded the school, which opened today for the fall term.

Worst State-Federal Crisis Since Civil War Faces Up In Arkansas School Racial Issue

By ROBERT E. FORD
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus backed his challenge of federal school racial integration orders with fresh troops today and dug in for what appeared to be the most serious state-federal crisis since Civil War days.

He said the only way he knew to break the stalemate between himself and the federal government would be for United States authorities to recede from their integration stand.

And, he said in a televised interview, the National Guard still operates with the same orders he issued after calling it up last Monday night on the eve of the opening of 2,000-pupil Central High School.

These orders, he has said, are to keep Negroes out and to prevent violence.

Block Nine Negroes
Wednesday the guard turned back nine Negro students. None has sought entry since. Negro leaders say they have no immediate plans to send students of their race back to face the Guard.

With the governor's renewed challenge last night, no compromise was in sight.

2 Flat Tires Lead To "Missing" Report

Two flat tires led to a police search this morning for George Redding, Biglerville R. 1.

Redding, an employee of a Hagerstown concern, left his home this morning at 6 o'clock. When he failed to arrive at the home of his brother in Waynesboro, whom he normally gave a "lift" to work, the brother called Redding's wife.

They checked hospitals in vain, asked state police to search the roads along which Redding normally traveled to Waynesboro.

While the search was going on, the family here was finally able to contact his employer in Hagerstown. The employer went in search, found Redding working on a contract job as scheduled and also learned that Redding had had two flat tires enroute, found out in Waynesboro that his brother had already gone to work and thus had not stopped for him and was unaware of the concern at home because he was "missing."

Shriner farm because of a right of way problem.

They said that if any other place were chosen in the township a new agreement would have to be considered because the present agreement pertains only to the Shriner farm. They added that the Shriner farm "would be a good site because it is at least a quarter mile from any home and surrounded by trees."

A petition was presented by Daniel Yingling asking permission to construct a number of homes for renting on his property along the Taneytown Rd. and to construct a roadway leading in to the new structures. The supervisors appeared willing to consider the permission but a check of requirements showed that the petition before them did not provide two copies as required, and did not provide proper measurements showing a 33-foot right of way for the proposed street as required by state legislation even when a property owner built it himself, as Yingling plans to do, on his own land.

The supervisors planned to see Mr. Yingling to get the proper application drawn up in duplicate to meet the requirements of the state law and it was expected that if such procedure was followed the approval would be quickly given.

Other business included the signing of warrants for the usual checks to pay the expenses of the township during the month. The supervisors meet the first Saturday of each month at the Cooley home.

14-Year-Old Girl Tells U.S. Chemists How To Cook Faster

NEW YORK (AP)—Three-minute eggs may be cooked in 1½ minutes, thanks to research by a 14-year-old girl, the American Chemical Society's national meeting was told today.

The girl, Brenda Gail Kanegis, a student at a Hyattsville, Md., junior high school, discovered that when glycerine is added to water the cooking time for vegetables and other foods can be greatly reduced.

Her findings were contained in a paper prepared for delivery to the society today.

She is a author of the paper jointly with her father, James Kanegis, a member of the Office of Technical Services, Department of Commerce, and Dr. Roger Gilmont, a chemical engineer, who is vice president and technical director of the Manostat Corp., New York City.

Raise Boiling Point
Glycerine, when dissolved in water, Gilmont said, means the boiling point can be raised without resorting to pressure. Ordinarily, pressure is used to achieve the high temperatures needed to speed up cooking.

42 PLANES HERE FOR JAYCEES' FLY-IN SUNDAY

Forty-two airplanes arrived at the Gettysburg Airport Sunday morning for the fourth annual "fly-in" held by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Seventy-three persons were in the planes. Thirty-nine of the planes were from Pennsylvania, two from New Jersey and one from Ohio. The planes included a number of Pipers, Aircrofts and one biplane, all owned and flown by private pilots.

The "fly-in" was described by the general chairman, Walter Fohl, as the "most successful the Jaycees have held so far." Plans were discussed at the fly-in for a similar fight next year and for a "fly-in" next spring as part of the Apple Blossom festival, with a number of the pilots in Sunday's group expressing interest in such a flight.

Many Tour 'Field'
John Y. Crow and Mark Gingrich of the local Jaycees served as the chefs for the breakfast of hotcakes, bacon, eggs, coffee and fruit juice served the visitors in the airport hangar.

A number of the pilots and their passengers took part in a guided tour of the battlefield arranged by the local Jaycees who provided the cars for the trip and secured local battlefield guides to conduct the tours.

Other members of the committee for the "fly-in" included Jack H. Bartlett and Paul McDonald. About 20 other members of the Jaycees assisted in entertaining the visiting aviators.

Next meeting of the Jaycees will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the engine house, E. Middle St.

STUDENT GROUP SAYS CHINESE HOLD CIA AGENT

LONDON (AP)—A U.S. civilian imprisoned in Communist China on spy charges has been quoted by visiting Americans as saying he worked for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The British news agency Reuters reported in a Peiping dispatch yesterday that five U.S. students said the statement was made to them in a Peiping prison visit with Richard Fecteau, 30, of Lynn, Mass.

A spokesman for the CIA in Washington refused to comment. The prisoner's mother Mrs. P. Philip D. Fecteau has denied that he worked for the CIA.

Fecteau and John Downey, 27, of New Britain, Conn., both civilian employees of the Army, disappeared on a flight from Korea to Japan in 1952. The Communists repeatedly have accused them of working for the CIA.

Fecteau was sentenced to 20 years and Downey to life imprisonment. The Communists asserted they were shot down over Manchuria while dropping supplies to agents there. The United States has denied this.

Reuters said separate groups from the 41 young Americans on an unauthorized tour of Red China visited for 30 minutes each with Fecteau and Downey yesterday. The 10 visitors—five to each prisoner—later drew up a joint statement about the interviews.

FIRST GRADES IN NASHVILLE OPENTONEGROES

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School officials, backed by 110 policemen took the first small step in desegregating Nashville public schools today, determined to make the transition peaceful.

They called on parents to send their children to school with assurance they would be safe. Segregation leaders urged parents to keep the children at home and go themselves as pickets.

Under plans approved by U. S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller, Nashville schools are beginning desegregation with first-graders today. Further desegregation plans must be submitted to the court by Dec. 31.

The new first grade zoning made about 126 Negro children eligible to enter formerly all-white schools.

Some Ask Transfers
More than half have asked and obtained transfers to Negro schools under provisions of the plan. Only 13 Negroes registered for mixed classes at five schools in advance of school opening.

About 150 segregationists gathered in a drizzling rain yesterday and sat in their cars to listen to John Kasper and other White Citizens Council speakers urge all-out resistance to desegregation.

The speakers urged parents to go to school as pickets and leave their children at home.

A spokesman for a more moderate pro-segregation group, the Tennessee Federation for Constitutional Government, issued a statement reminding parents that Tennessee's compulsory school law does not apply to 6-year-olds, the age of most first-graders.

MAKE PROGRESS WITH FIRE HALL

Progress on construction of the new fire hall at Edge Grove was reported at a meeting of the Cone-wago Fire Co. Friday evening by the building committee chairman, Francis Miller, who asked that all members turn out Saturdays to aid in the construction.

Bills totaling $2,108.03 were approved to be paid from the new building fund.

Elected into membership in the company were Philip Hagerman, Irishstown, as a social member, and Joseph Legore, Edge Grove, as an active member.

President Timmins reported a stag party will be held at the McSherrystown Fish and Game Association woods Sunday, September 29, from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

New fire call cards were reported received and will be distributed to residents of the area in the near future.

President Timmins announced the next meeting will be the date for nomination of officers. Named as the committee for the social hour to follow the next meeting, according to Secretary Donald Sneeringer, were Mark Brady, Ral, h Oaster and Francis Carbaugh.

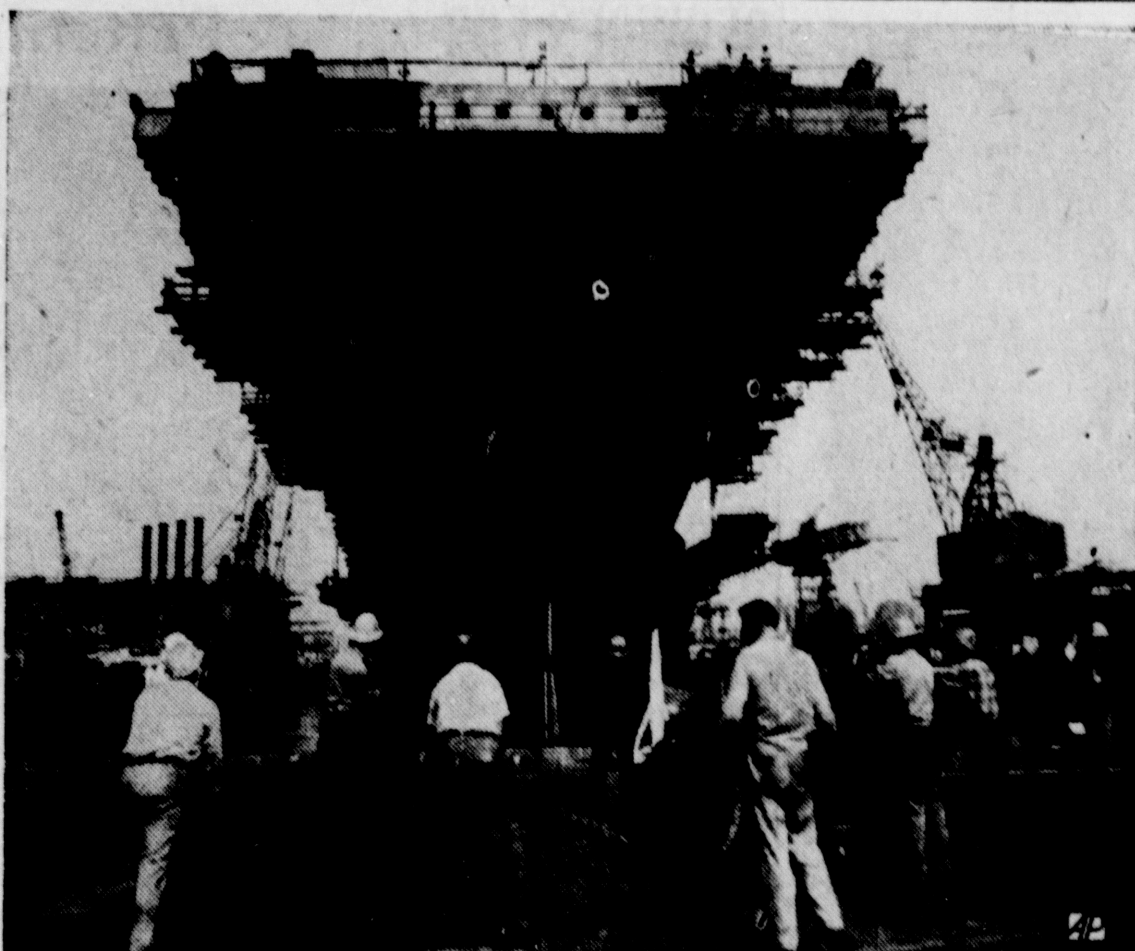

INTEGRATE TWO CHESTER SCHOOLS

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An official of this Chester County school district said today it has eliminated racial segregation in two of its schools.

Samuel E. McDonald, superintendent of the Coatesville schools, said segregation has ended in the James Adams community schools and the Terry elementary school. Until this year the Adams school was all-Negro, the Terry school all-white.

McDonald said that as a result of "redistricting" negroes and whites attend both schools. He added that all six Coatesville schools are integrated. The system has 3,500 pupils, nearly 15 percent of whom are Negro.

In addition to Coatesville the State Department of Instruction last spring named school districts in Kennett Square and Steelton as practicing racial segregation.

STASSEN SAYS LONG PARLEYS "NOT IN VAIN"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold Stassen returned today from the fruitless London disarmament conferences, still talking optimistically of eventual East-West agreement on arms controls.

Stassen told reporters at National Airport that the five long months of talks with the Russians were not in vain even though no agreement was reached.

"The day will come when we reach agreement," Stassen said.

Goes To U.N. Committee
He rejected a reporter's suggestion that only a Big Four summit conference, bringing together President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikoli Bulganin with the British and French heads of government, could bring agreement out of the deadlock.

"No," Stassen replied. "The question goes now to the full U.N. Disarmament Committee in New York. That is the agreement."

Stassen brushed aside a question about his personal plans for the future. He was asked whether he would step out as Eisenhower's chief disarmament aide and re-enter politics, possible seeking the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

Major Disagreement
"As you know, I declared a complete moratorium on politics during these disarmament negotiations," Stassen said. "My immediate plan is to report to Secretary Dulles."

He said, in reply to another question, that he did not know whether he would report directly also to Eisenhower, who is vacationing at Newport, R.I.

As to possible future progress toward disarmament, Stassen said the next move should come from Moscow.

"If it would agree to stop the production of fissionable materials for weapon uses, then I believe we could move on to a first step agreement," he said. "This was the major point of disagreement."

An exhibition of driving a six-pony hitch was presented by LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Baltimore St., between the open five-gaited saddle horse class and the final class of the day, the pairs.

STRANGERS KISS EISENHOWER AT COUNTRY CLUB

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower got kissed by two women he never had seen before. It happened in front of a lot of people, and he was flabbergasted. He also chatted with a Philadelphia millionaire and the latter's wife.

He talked with them seconds after walking 25 feet from a spot where he gave his autograph to half a dozen folks.

At Country Club
Then he chucked the chin of a pretty blonde girl about 3 years old, and a moment later stopped to have his picture taken with another cute young lady—this one red-haired and 13 months old.

All those things happened within three hours yesterday at the Newport Country Club, where the President did something he rarely does—golfed on Sunday. Ordinarily when Eisenhower goes on vacation the public seldom sees him. Here it's an entirely different story.

Exclusive Course
The Newport Country Club is one of the oldest and most exclusive in the United States. But the public is permitted to play the course some of the time.

And anybody—just anybody—can wander onto the course or into the clubhouse any time and stand almost under Eisenhower's nose as he golfs. Everyone who does, of course, is under the careful scrutiny of Secret Service agents assigned to guard the President.

If Eisenhower minds the folks moving in the way they have been he gives no indication. Actually, he seems to enjoy it. Yesterday the spectators gave him a big hand for a couple of fine putts, and a grin spread all over his face.

Had Finished Golf
He had finished an 18-hole round and was leaving the clubhouse after changing his shoes when he got a big surprise. From the crowd of onlookers stepped Mrs. Edna Flint of Providence, R.I., and Mrs. George Guthro, Cranston, R.I.

In a twinkling both women—both fortyish—had soundly kissed the amazed President. "He was flabbergasted but he said, 'Well, thank you very much,'" the pleased Mrs. Flint reported. She and Mrs. Guthro were in Newport for a business convention.

The Philadelphia millionaire Eisenhower visited with briefly was George F. Widener, a member of the Newport club.

REDS ATTACK WEST GERMANS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union yesterday accused the West German government of "leading Germany along a dangerous path."

The accusation was made in a note to the Bonn government once more rejecting West Germany's demand for free elections to reunite the divided country. The Soviet note was delivered a week before West Germany's parliamentary elections.

(In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said the note was designed to support the opposition Social Democrats in the elections. He said he did not think the note would help the Socialists, Erich Ollenhauer, Social Democrat leader, said in a speech at Bad Orb the Soviet note was an answer to Adenauer's "policy of strength.")

The Soviet answer to a four-month-old German note was handed Saturday to West German Ambassador Wilhelm Hass by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Communist East Germany insists on unification negotiated between the governments. Bonn wants free elections.

The Soviet note reiterated the Russian position that free elections are unacceptable.

The Iconnu, a species of whitefish, was so named by early French explorers from the French word for "unknown."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
The Railroad: We learn that the Track-layers on the Gettysburg Railroad have completed the line of the Road into Adams County; and on Thursday next the Hanover Company will run their locomotive and passenger car up as far as completed. A free ride will be given to all who wish to take the first excursion on the Gettysburg Railroad. The first puff of the locomotive will that day be heard in our County limits, and such a day is worthy of being celebrated by all interested in this Railroad project.

Decidedly Cool: A man was indicted at our last court for malicious mischief, in breaking the windows of a tenant-house of Mrs. Myers, in Hamiltonban. He submitted to the court and was sentenced to an imprisonment of sixty days. After serving about two weeks, he became tired of confinement and on Friday morning last, he took into his head to breathe a little fresher air than that of the prison, made a small hole in the wall, and became "a gentleman at large." He left a letter for the Sheriff on his table, thanking him for his politeness, and expressing his regret that circumstances would not allow him to remain any longer with him at present. It appears to be a trifling affair to escape from confinement in our prison—and we wonder more do not resort to the easy process of getting outside.

Tall Corn: Our friend George B. Stover, near town, is determined not to beat in the cornstalk line; and has produced one measuring 14 feet 6 inches. That will do.

W. A. Cook, Esq., formerly of Lattimore Township, in this county, has been elected Probate Judge of Sarpy County, Nebraska.

Mr. Abraham Krise, of Freedom Township, has lost several fine hogs to the hog cholera. Since the above was in type, we learn that Maj. Wolf, near Abbottstown, has lost upward of forty hogs; Col. Kuhn, near East Berlin, a number and others in that section of the county, more or less.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Local Items: Mr. Daniel A. Skelly of this place raised one of the largest cantaloupes of the season. Its weight was 10 1/2 pounds.

If they can raise the gas, Hanover will have a grand balloon ascension on the 21st inst.

The school house at White Hall will be enlarged and two teachers employed.

G. W. Miller has sold his farm in Highland Township to N. D. Miller for $6,000 cash.

Mrs. Dustman, of Seminary Ridge, would inform the public that she has a large supply of very fine grapes for sale. Call and see them.

Railroad: Yesterday morning the Hanover, Hanover Junction and Gettysburg railroad commenced laying ties and rails on the old "tapeworm." It is said to be their intention to continue the work to Seminary ridge.

Pennsylvania College: The fall term of Pennsylvania college began on last Thursday. All the Professors were present for duty. The attendance of old students and addition of new ones was more than the average, but not quite equal to last year.

Sales: Saml. Smith, administrator of the estate of Adam Smith, sold the farm of 180 acres to Charles Strasbaugh for $25 per acre.

Edward and Rufus Sponseller, administrators of Elias Sponseller, dec'd, sold a farm of 39 acres to Amos Sponseller for $70 per acre.

Springs Hotel: The Springs Hotel closed on last Saturday after a very successful season. Mr. and Mrs. Yingling won golden opinions from all their guests for the manner in which they were entertained. Everything was conducted in first class style and the host and hostess spared no effort to make the stay of their guests enjoyable and pleasant, and it must be a satisfaction to them to know that they succeeded

THE WONDER OF CHILDHOOD

Never does my wonder over childhood lessen. To look into the eyes of a small child is to look into a miracle! I find it difficult to pass a baby carriage on the street without pausing and getting a thrill. What innocence, what locked up secrets that only the key of time will unlock!

I watch a baby with a colored flower in its hand, and how I long to be able to know that baby's thoughts! Significant they must be, but they are lost to the world. Remarkable are the looks of a child when it shakes its rattle, or hugs its stuffed doll, or animal. A world of mystery is enacted.

Christ loved children and made that love outstanding when he said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven." I think of Pasteur who gave over most of his life in seeking out how to save mothers and their babies, and gained fame for his discoveries, even in the face of ridicule. It was enough for him to have become a benefactor to the human race. Babies, when grown, should bless the name of Pasteur.

When he was but 34 years of age, Thoreau wrote this in his diary: "I suspect that the child plucks its first flower with an insight into its beauty and significance which the subsequent botanist never retains."

Scientists and researchers have saved the lives of millions of babies, and the world will forever honor their memory. The shaping of a child's life is a greater thing than the building of a skyscraper! These builders were once children in a crib! The education of that child, and every child, begins from that crib, and at its mother's breast.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Sounds of Youth." Protected, 1957, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

THANKFUL

I'm thankful for so many things I couldn't name them all.
I'm thankful that I'm living on this old terrestrial ball.
I'm thankful that my teeth don't ache.

I'm thankful I'm fairly well.
I'm thankful I've a cosy house
Where love and comfort dwell.

I'm thankful that I've lived a year
And known its rain and sun,
Its pleasures and its round of care;
And as I journey on
I'm thankful, too, that my lot is
No worse than others know.
I'm thankful for a host of friends
Who smooth my path below.

I'm thankful that I have a job.
I'm thankful I can smile
And still find fun upon the earth
Although I've made no pile.
I'm thankful I can sleep at night
From care and worry free.
I'm thankful no grand jury is Investigating me.

Big Hurricane Is Far Out In Atlantic; Storm Heads North

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The 150 m.p.h. winds of Hurricane Carrie remained far out in the Atlantic today while a tropical storm, Debbie, now little more than a heavy rain, moved across North Carolina toward Virginia.

The season's third hurricane was located about 1,200 miles east of San Juan. It is moving west-northwest at about 10 m.p.h. and is expected to continue this course and speed for the next 12 hours.

Carrie packs winds up to 150 m.p.h. near its center with hurricane force winds extending out 75 miles to the north and 50 miles to the south.

The hurricane today "will increase slightly in size but will not change in intensity," the Weather Bureau reported.

"This is a severe hurricane and vessels in its path should exercise caution," the advisory continued. "There is no immediate threat to any land areas."

Debbie, which blew up in the Gulf of Mexico Saturday, is moving from north Georgia toward Virginia at about 15 m.p.h. and should reach central Virginia tomorrow.

Small craft warnings are displayed from south of Block Island, R.I., to Savannah, Ga., for fresh and occasionally strong winds.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A $145 bill for chartered plane service used by Agriculture Secretary William L. Hennig was held up today by Auditor Gen. Charles C. Smith.

The bill covered plane transportation from State College to a Governor's Day celebration at Indian town Gap Aug. 10 and return.

"I want to know if this trip was necessary before we approve payment of the bill and why Hennig couldn't use one of the state's four planes if he had to fly," Smith declared.

Hennig said the trip was for business purposes. He added he chartered the two-engine Piper because he didn't care to fly over the mountains in one of the Commonwealth's smaller single-engine planes.

Some observers advanced the idea that U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies might issue a injunction against Faubus to prevent him from interfering with the federal court's integration order.

Reports circulated last night that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was preparing a petition asking a contempt of court citation against Faubus.

This was denied by Thurgood Marshall, New York, top NAACP attorney, and Wiley Branton, Pine Bluff, Ark., NAACP attorney spearheading the Little Rock NAACP integration legal actions.

The governor last night said that if Negroes had entered Central High, caravans of people planned to converge upon Little Rock the day school opened, and that widespread sale of weapons had been verified. He declined to specify further.

Faured Opening Action
The governor was asked the question, "There has been some suggestion you are the person chosen by several Southern governors to make a test case of this. Do you care to comment on it?"

Answered the governor, "... There is no vestige of truth whatever to it. I have not conferred with any other Southern governor or members of any organization anywhere in the South with relation to the problems of Arkansas or to this problem."

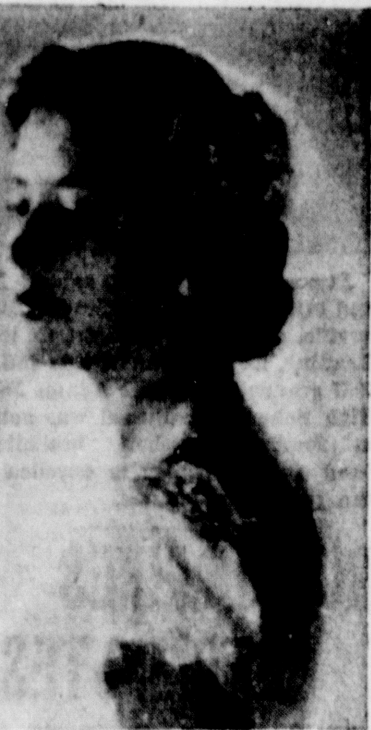

The four newsmen participating in the interview were Keith Fuller, chief of bureau of The Associated Press in Little Rock; William Hines of the Washington Star; Bob Considine, International News Service; and Kenneth L. Johnson, Little Rock correspondent for the (Memphis) Commercial Appeal.

John Secondari, chief of the Washington bureau of the American Broadcasting Co., was panel moderator.

SERVICES FOR HANDICAPPED HIT NEW HIGH

An all-time high of 18,999 physically handicapped commonwealth residents were provided with services by the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation during the past fiscal year, indicating the growing demand and need for aid to the disabled. It was reported today. In 1956 14,707 persons were served.

These services are part of the federal-state rehabilitation program and include diagnosis, counseling and guidance, medical services, and miscellaneous services and the ultimate placement in gainful employment.

During the year 5,794 of the 18,999 completed their rehabilitation program and the cases were closed as "satisfactorily rehabilitated," or placement in jobs. A case is closed when a disabled person is placed in a job for which he was prepared and for which he was considered most capable of fulfilling. Another 1,879 cases were closed because of death, personal factors, aggravation of the disability or some other similar reason.

1,483 From District
John J. Gordon, supervisor of the bureau's Harrisburg district office, said 1,483 were from Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Juniata, Lancaster, Mifflin, Perry and York Counties.

Among the 11,326 persons in the process of being rehabilitated when the year ended, 1,709 were receiving physical restoration services such as medical and psychiatric treatment or the fitting of an appliance. Vocational training was being provided for 2,320 individuals. This service is purchased from colleges or universities, certified public and private vocational trade schools and other existing institutions. In addition 134 persons were undergoing physical restoration and training simultaneously.

One of the most important phases of rehabilitation is the preparation of a sound, overall program for the disabled individual who participates actively in its planning. When the year ended, 3,679 were having their cases evaluated, were receiving assistance while a rehabilitation plan was being prepared or were in the process of receiving their medical examinations, which are provided for all bureau clients.

Get Wide Recognition
Gordon said 402 were rehabilitated in the Harrisburg district and 1,023 are receiving rehabilitation services.

All services except placement in gainful jobs were completed for 2,473. All of them were ready to enter employment and were awaiting suitable job openings. Another 667 had been placed in employment and were receiving follow-up services to insure adequate adjustment to their rehabilitation job before their cases were closed as rehabilitated. Plans were halted temporarily for 344 individuals because of illness or some other reason.

"It is because of this type of training, service and placement," Gordon said, "that physically handicapped persons are given wide recognition in industry where they have established enviable records of achievement, loyalty and attendance."

Milwaukee Lead Melts As Moundsmen Fail; Yankees Gain Game Over White Sox

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The pitching mound where Milwaukee lost the National League pennant during the closing weeks last year, once again has become "heartbreak hill" for Braves' Manager Fred Haney.

Their first-place margin over St. Louis, reduced to 5½ games—lowest since Aug. 11—by yesterday's 5-3 loss to Chicago, the Braves face the last three weeks with only one reliable pitcher, 36-year-old Warren Spahn. The other members of the once formidable Big Four—Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl and Gene Conley—are either ailing or failing.

The New York Yankees, also plagued by an acute pitching shortage, got good relief pitching by Bobby Shantz and defeated Washington 5-2 to increase their first-place lead to 5½ games over Chicago in the American League. The White Sox, who now trail by four games in the important lost column, dropped a 13-inning 3-2 decision to Kansas City.

Cards Overcome Deficit
The Cardinals overcame a 3-0 deficit with two runs each in the eighth and ninth innings to defeat Cincinnati 4-3.

The New York Giants defeated third-place Brooklyn 3-2, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh split, the Phillies winning 7-4 and the Pirates 6-2.

Detroit triumphed over Cleveland 3-1 and Boston, behind the three-hit pitching of Mike Fornieles, shut out Baltimore 2-0.

Milwaukee has played 25 games since Aug. 13, the day Burdette pitched what was then the seventh consecutive complete game by a Brave pitcher. Only seven times since then has a Milwaukee pitcher gone the route Spahn was that pitcher on five occasions.

Last September the same Big Four completed only 7 of 25 starts.

Gene Conley Fails
It was Conley who failed yesterday although relief pitcher Ernie Johnson took the defeat. Big Gene, who hasn't won since Aug. 11, failed to last the fourth inning when the Cubs increased their lead to 3-4. The Braves fought back to tie the score at 3-3 in the ninth but four walks plus pinch hitter Bob Willis' single produced two Chicago runs in the 10th and paved the way for Milwaukee's fourth loss in its last five games.

Dale Long paced the Cubs' 10-hit attack with a double, two singles, a walk and two runs batted in. Dick Drott who replaced starter Moe Drabowsky in the ninth, won his 13th game against 11 defeats.

Score On Missed Bunts
Unsuccessful sacrifice bunts helped the Cards score the tying and winning runs in the ninth. Cincinnati starter Joe Nuxhall held a 3-2 lead when Del Ennis opened the Cards' ninth with a walk. Ken

CHICAGO BEARS DEFEAT EAGLES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
San Francisco's 49ers and Green Bay's Packers are the only teams with embelished exhibition records in the National Football League but Chicago's big bad bears have started to rumble.

The Bears, beaten by the New York Giants in last fall's playoff, sprang loose a rookie halfback by the name of Willie Gailimore yesterday and dealt the Philadelphia Eagles their fifth straight setback 24-14 in one of the five games played over the weekend.

In Saturday's game, the 49ers and Packers each won their fourth straight with San Francisco defeating the winless Chicago Cardinals 27-21 and Green Bay downing the Giants 13-10. Sunday the Pittsburgh Steelers won their second straight after two defeats by turning back the Detroit Lions 20-14 and the Washington Redskins won their first after losing three with a 24-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts. The Giants defeat was the champions' second. They also have won three, including the All-Star game.

LOS ANGELES MAKES BID FOR DODGERS MOVE

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's big question as to the future home of the Brooklyn Dodgers became even more involved today with a group of Los Angeles businessmen offering to purchase the National League club and move it to the West Coast city.

Elliott Evans of Los Angeles said he and associates were willing to top by half a million dollars the five-million-dollar offer made for the club a few days ago by New Yorker Louis E. Wolfson.

Evans made public his offer a few hours after John Cashmore, president of the borough of Brooklyn, wired President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers to "please hold everything" and to tell Los Angeles to "go find itself another team."

May Stay
Cashmore advised O'Malley in a telegram sent to Vero Beach, Fla., that legal obstacles barring a proposed stadium in the Flatbush section of downtown Brooklyn might possibly be removed.

O'Malley flew to Vero Beach yesterday after a six-day vacation in Wyoming.

The Brooklyn city official told O'Malley the decision regarding a new stadium on the site desired by the Dodger head is due shortly. O'Malley repeatedly has requested city officials to condemn land on the Flatbush and Atlantic Avenue site for the building of a ball park. He has said he is willing to invest more than six million dollars to build the stadium.

Lumpe Sparks Yanks
Young Jerry Lumpe was the big noise in the Yankees' victory over Washington. The rookie third baseman singled and tripled and scored two runs to help Tom Sturdivant gain his 14th triumph.

Four ex-Yankees joined to lead the Athletics to their 13-inning triumph over the White Sox. Lou Skizas opened the 13th with a walk, raced to third on Billy Martin's single and scored the winning run on Woody Held's sacrifice fly. Jack Urban went all the way for Kansas City, limiting the Sox to five hits. The rookie right-hander pitched nine consecutive hitless innings, between the fourth and 13th.

Charlie Maxwell collected three hits and Dave Philley scored two runs in Detroit's triumph over Cleveland. Billy Hoeltz hurled a seven-hitter. Gene Woodling's eighth-inning homer deprived him of a shutout.

Dick Gernert slammed a two-run homer in the seventh for Boston to break up a scoreless duel between Fornieles and Baltimore's Billy O'Dell.

Union Bridge, Taneytown Win Victories As Pen-Mar Semifinal Playoffs Open

Union Bridge and Taneytown won victories Sunday afternoon as the semifinals of the Pen-Mar Baseball League opened.

Union Bridge scored two runs in the last of the eighth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock to defeat invading Fairfield 4-2. Taneytown scored a pair of runs in the top of the eighth to win at Blue Ridge Summit 4-3.

Crum's double in the eighth was the payoff blow which broke the tie at Union Bridge to give the home team the victory. Union Bridge had taken a 2-0 lead in the first three innings on homers by Spencer and L. Duppin. Fairfield scored in the sixth and knotted the score at 2-2 in the top of the eighth.

Each team collected a total of nine hits. Spencer and Tucker each poled two for Union Bridge while J. Deardorff, Sites and Johnson each had a pair for Fairfield.

Win On Homer
Graham Wildasin's homerun with one on in the top of the eighth gave Taneytown its victory at Blue Ridge Summit. Singel also homered for Taneytown in the first inning.

The game resolved itself into a tight pitchers' duel between Weaver of Taneytown and Null of Blue Ridge. Weaver fanned 10 and Null an even dozen.

Both series will continue next Sunday when Union Bridge plays at Fairfield and Blue Ridge at Taneytown. Both are best-of-three affairs.

Open 57th Amateur Golf Meet Today

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The winner of the 57th National Amateur golf championship likely will be a player about 34 or 35 years old with a good background of tournament experience. He'll have to be young enough to withstand 180 holes of golf within six days and old and smart enough to think out every shot.

That's a crude consensus of some of the top performers in the 200-man field which began play in the amateur today over the historic course of The Country Club.

Play began at 7 a.m., EST, today with 72 first round matches on the card. Another single round will be played tomorrow, double 18-hole tests on Wednesday and Thursday and then the 36-hole semifinals and finals Friday and Saturday.

MINING COACH GETS SOLACE EVEN AS LOSER

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Fritz Brenneke figures he has one of the nation's most ideal football coaching jobs at the Colorado School of Mines, a member of the Rocky Mountain Conference.

The 46-year-old Brenneke has been the Mines' coach since 1947. His teams have won 34 games, lost 51 and tied 4 during the 10 years.

"Most colleges today wouldn't tolerate a record like mine," says Brenneke, who also serves as athletic director. "I don't think I'm subjected to the pressures of other coaches. Most of my pressure comes from myself. Anytime you coach, you put yourself under pressure to win."

Brenneke says he's "never been criticized in my jobs by my knowledge."

Copped Title
Brenneke's biggest sports thrill came in 1951 when his team won the Rocky Mountain championship.

What satisfaction does a losing coach like Brenneke get out of his work?

"To see these kids graduate," Brenneke says, "then follow them through their careers in engineering fields, knowing that you gave them memories of some pleasant activities in college. These kids have a tough haul in school, and athletics give them something pleasant to remember."

"As a football coach, Brenneke has lasted longer in his job than any other college coach in this area."

Sullivan May Go To Detroit Quint

A reliable source reports that former Mt. St. Mary's cage ace Jack Sullivan will soon be traded to the Detroit Pistons in the NBA.

Still unsigned by the Philadelphia Warriors, Sullivan seems ready to pass up an offer from the Peoria Caterpillars to take a fling at pro ball. Piston Coach Charles Eckman had Sullivan tabbed for third place in the draft but Eddie Gottlieb nailed him in the preceding round. Eckman has been working to pry him loose ever since.

BOBBY BELL AND LULU PEREZ TO FIGHT TONIGHT

By MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

Featherweight Bobby Bell and lightweight Lulu Perez, who fought to a draw Aug. 19, clash again tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. It figures to be another close 10-rounder.

Bell, 28, of Youngstown, Ohio, spotted his rival seven pounds—135½ to 138½—in their first fight but finished strong to earn the draw. He has a spotty 38-29-6 record but had enough ability to beat more featherweights and lightweights on a good night.

Perez, 24, of Brooklyn, has a 36-11-2 record.

The bout will be telecast over DuMont at 9:30 p.m., EST.

Tuesday Is Big Night
Tuesday is the big night for boxing this week. Listed for action tomorrow night, but not against each other, are heavyweight contenders Zola Folley, Willie Pastano and Alex Miteff, and light heavyweight contender Harold Johnson.

Folley, No. 2 ranking heavyweight, will fight a 10-rounder against Monroe Ratliff of Los Angeles in Phoenix, Ariz.

Pastano, No. 4 heavyweight challenger, meets sub George Peyton of Houston at Miami Beach, Fla. Peyton replaced Roy Harris, a fellow Texan, who suffered a cut over his eye in training.

Miteff, Pan-American champion from Argentina, who has an 11-0 pro record, meets big Johnny Holman of Chicago at Denver.

Johnson, ranking light heavy challenger, faces strong, stocky Wayne Bethena, a New York heavyweight, at Philadelphia.

Wednesday's Card
Welterweight contenders Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., and Larry Baker of New York, collide in the Wednesday night television — ABC, 9 p.m., EST — feature at Chicago Stadium. Martinez, ranked fourth, is the favorite but Baker could surprise. The New Yorker, unbeaten in his last nine fights over a 2½ year span, upset Mexico's Gaspar Ortega July 3 to earn a welter ranking for the first time.

Fights Friday Saturday
Middleweights Randy Sandy of New York and Franz Suxhina of Germany tangle at Syracuse, N.Y. Friday night on NBC TV—radio at 9 p.m., EST. Suxhina has won three straight. Sandy dropped his last two but both were close fights with contenders Joey Giardello and Spider Webb.

Ike Chestnut of New York and Jose Cordero of Los Angeles, a pair of classy featherweight contenders battle it out Saturday night at Hollywood, Calif. It's one of the top bouts of the week and probably will sell out.

Althea Gibson Is New Tennis Champ

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Three short years ago, Althea Gibson was so discouraged that she was ready to give up tennis and join the Women's Army Corps.

Today the angular Harlem girl rules an undisputed queen of the courts, the first Negro ever to win a national championship.

"I was ready to chuck it all in those days," Miss Gibson said. "I was miked up and seemed to be getting nowhere in the game. Now, of course I'm glad I didn't join the WACs."

She should be. Yesterday, on the polished center court of the West Side Tennis Club, she gave a superb exhibition of craftsmanship to defeat Louise Brough 6-3, 6-2 in the final. The victory culminated a dream of seven years for Miss Gibson.

While Althea's triumph was expected, the result of the men's division was a distinct surprise. Unseeded Mal Anderson whipped his Australian teammate Ashley Cooper 10-8, 7-5, 6-4 in the second all-Australian final in two years.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law the historic civil rights bill, empowering the federal government to enforce the right to vote with court injunctions.

The President put his signature to the bill—the first such legislation in 80 years—at his desk at his vacation headquarters here at 8:10 a.m.

Eisenhower's action came against the background of the school integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark. but the measure—primarily the right-to-vote bill—has no direct bearing on that dispute.

It would repeal a post-Civil War era law authorizing the President to use troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases. But administration officials obviously feel Eisenhower has other powers.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told a news conference here the Justice Department plans to submit to U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies in Little Rock the report he asked on the integration crisis there. Hagerty said the report would be handed to Davies later in the day.

The civil rights bill was passed by Congress a day before it adjourned Aug. 30, after the historic struggle lasting through the 1957 session.

Passage of the measure was the major action of the session. It also was a significant victory for the President even though his original proposals were rewritten by the Democratic-controlled Congress to remove or soften some of the far-reaching provisions.

Aside from the broad new powers to enforce voting rights, the bill would:

Establish a six-member presidential commission to make a two-year study in the civil rights field.

Provide for a new assistant attorney general to head and strengthen the civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Repeal a Reconstruction era law authorizing a president to use troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases.

Eliminate the requirement that federal court jurors be qualified under the laws of states in which they serve. This is designed to make certain that Negroes can serve on federal juries.

The congressional debate and victory for the bill are certain to have political repercussions for a long time.

Republicans made it clear they expected to profit at the polls in areas where minority groups are an important factor. GOP lawmakers emphasized that they provided the bulk of the votes for the bill.

NEW JURIST WILL TRY CASE

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Judge Burton O. Laub of Erie County came here today to charge the September grand jury in the case of seven men charged with distributing obscene literature libeling political candidates in Lawrence County's May primary election.

Judge Laub agreed to handle the case after Judges Joseph G. Lamoree and John S. Powers of Lawrence County disqualified themselves.

In another weekend development, Dist. Atty. Perry L. Reher said State Atty. Gen. Thomas McBride's action in superseding him in the case is a "political plot" to remove him from office. Reher is a Republican candidate for re-election in November.

The seven men are accused of printing and distributing obscene literature attacking political candidates. One of those allegedly libeled was Howard Lyon who lost the Republican nomination for district attorney to Reher.

EXPECT RAIN IN MANY AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U. S. Weather Bureau looked for rains in many parts of Pennsylvania tonight as a result of tropical storm Debbie which came out of the Gulf of Mexico and now is working its way northward from the South Atlantic states.

Clouds began thickening early Monday over southern Pennsylvania and the bureau predicted rains would follow the cloud cover from Maryland into Pennsylvania. The forecast calls for an inch of rain to fall over some sections of the state between Monday night and Wednesday.

The heaviest rainfalls are expected for the area east of the Alleghenies and in the Pocono Mountain sections.

Heavy amounts of rain also are expected to fall in Lebanon, York, Lancaster and Dauphin counties east to the New Jersey border.

Fair weather is expected to follow the rain Wednesday or Thursday with slightly higher temperatures.

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—Thomas A. Butlerbaugh 18, of Waynesboro, died yesterday of injuries suffered when he fell from a moving car Friday night near his home.

Police said they were not sure how the man fell from the car being driven by J. Stanley Good, 21, of Waynesboro. J. D. Goshen, coroner, said he is investigating the accident.

Average depth of Hudson Bay is 70 fathoms, or 420 feet.

HENRY WILL NOT PUNISH PRICE

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Police Commissioner Earl J. Henry said today he planned "no punitive" action against an officer of the force a Levittown physician charged with slander.

"I received a full and complete report on the slander charges made by Dr. Glenn W. Bricker against Lt. Walter Price and I see no reason for the charge," Col. Henry said.

"I wrote to Dr. Bricker and in-plans no punitive action against the officer who made the charge," he added.

The state police commissioner said "it is now up to Dr. Bricker if he wants to take court action—that is his right."

Col. Henry said Dr. Bricker had asked him to take action against Price, who the physician said made derogatory statements about Mrs. Bricker in the presence of witnesses.

The doctor, Henry said, filed a complaint charging slander, misuse of authority and conduct unbecoming an officer in the incident which occurred several months ago.

"I studied the report thoroughly and long and I found no basis for punitive action against the officer," Col. Henry said.

Lt. Price is commander of the state police barracks at Plymouth.

State To Receive School Lunch Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania is to receive $4,544,270 from the federal government during the 1957-58 school year to help pay for school lunch expenditures.

The Agriculture Department announced the appropriations for the current school year Saturday. For the 48 states, District of Columbia and U.S. territories the total expenditure will be some $63,600,000, apportioned on the basis of the number of children, between the ages of 5 and 17 and the need for assistance based on per capita income in the individual states.

To Hear Arguments In Bribery Action

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Dauphin County Court will hear argument Oct. 2-3 on motions to quash indictments against a Frackville contractor charged with conspiracy, bribery and perjury in furnishing clinders to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Counsel for Victor P. Prepp presented a petition Saturday asking that the indictments against Prepp be thrown out on grounds there was only one witness on the perjury charge; that the two-year statute of limitations has expired; that there was only hearsay evidence against Prepp before the thing they could do—sing. The men of the tribes took up the tune, and Miriam, Moses' sister, led the women with timbrels and dances. It was a concerted action, one group answering the other."

Wagnild said that there is not too much mention of music in the Bible but "that does not mean that there wasn't much music. The ancients had plenty of ability in the three basic arts, painting or relief work, architecture and music." He noted that the Egyptians and the Babylonians are better known for their paintings and architecture and that the Hebrews were rather poor in these arts. "The Hebrews were not very good even in music. Their forte was religion," Wagnild said.

Used Old Instrument
Speaking of the Hebrew conquest of Jericho, Wagnild said the trumpets blown on the seventh day of marching around the city were actually shophars, an instrument made from a ram's or goat's horn. He noted that it is the only ancient musical instrument still used in Jewish services.

Another instance of music mentioned in the Bible Wagnild said was when David played music before King Saul "who was drunk with power or mentally sick, which people of the time called being possessed with demons. They thought that music could drive them out. As you recall, it didn't work too well."

"David is said to have played a harp—actually it was a lyre, an instrument that rested on the player's knee, looking something like an ancient candelabrum. It was threaded with sheep gut which was strong and gave a sonorous tone."

Music Expressed Feelings
"When Saul defeated the Philistines you recall how the women came out with songs, dances, timbrels and psalteries. What they had in music was pure expression."

Wagnild said that the first mention of organized music in the Bible was when David restored the ark to the Hebrews and, wanting to place it in a holy place with pomp and splendor, organized 24 musicians under the leadership of Chenaniah.

He further noted that during the time of Solomon, the priests became the foremost class which resulted in the development of liturgy and music. For the placing of the ark in the new temple, Wagnild said 4,000 of a possible 38,000 musicians were chosen to participate in the service. "It was a tremendous moment. The people were overwhelmed, awed," he said.

The Sunday School service opened with a call to worship, by Miss Louise DeGroft and two songs by the congregation. Wilbur Mackley read the scripture lesson and Paul King led in prayer. Edgar Yealy was in charge of the service and Harry Harner was the song leader; Mrs. Thelma Hyser, the pianist.

"Ivory Palaces," a duet, was sung by Mrs. Bernice Yealy and Harry Harner. Members of the quartet which sang "Going To Shout All Over God's Heaven" were: Edgar Yealy, first tenor; Albert Starner, second tenor; Ronald Strevig, baritone, and Glenn Unger, bass.

PLANE CRASHES

Marsh Creek Church of the Brethren said he heard the plane flying overhead and knew it had engine trouble. His son, Donald G. Valentine, returning home from the service station at the junction of Route 234 and the Lincoln Highway, saw the crashed plane and took Hernandez to a phone where he notified state police.

Hernandez said he has flown since 1947 except for a couple of years in the armed service. He said he has been employed by the Aircraft Ferry Company for about a year. When asked what his plans were, Hernandez replied that he would return to Lock Haven to pick up another plane.

Two men who refused to identify themselves but who reportedly had given the plane a pre-flight check arrived on the scene Saturday afternoon.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
The Associated Press

Ah! those gremlins that lurk all around us, ready to pounce on a camera fan's slightest evidence of carelessness. Can they gum up pictures!

Take the 35mm fan who tries to squeeze an extra frame per roll of film. He barely catches the end of the film in the take-up spool and is just about aware that the sprocket catches only one side of the sprocket holes on the film tongue then closes the cover. Whenever possible, a gremlin causes enough tension on the one sprocket hole to tear it and the film doesn't advance.

After going well past the number of pictures he can shoot per roll, the "frame-saver" will worry, wonder, and finally know that something's wrong. When he opens the back, there'll be a moment of panic when he sees the film and thinks he's fogged it. Eventually he'll discover that, except for a broken sprocket hole, it's the same leader he started with.

Avoid Gremlins

To avoid gremlins, make sure the sprocket holes on both sides of the film are engaged and are advancing the film before closing the back.

Then there are the make-shift darkrooms for loading film in hold-ers or developing tanks. They look perfectly black as you start the operation but in a few minutes you can see what you're doing. That's one way that gremlins fog films.

To outwit them, wait a few minutes until your eyes get accustomed to the dark to see if a room is really light-tight before uncovering any film.

That if the water in the Great Lakes was spread evenly over the nation, it would cover the 48 states to a depth of 10 feet.

Home Movie Fans

Home movie fans sometimes slip up in loading roll film, giving waiting gremlins an excuse to jam up the film inside or let the spool go round and round with no pictures going anywhere.

To foil them, keep a few small strips of adhesive tape on the inside of the camera cover. When loading, anchor the end of the film to the take-up spool with tape. That'll start the film moving. It'll also give you a positive indication of the end of the film—there'll be a slight tug when you reach the tape.

Nowadays, it takes a mighty conservative camera fan to refrain from testing how fast he can go with the new high-speed films in black and white and color. But beware of those gremlins! Don't mix some normal exposures with double-speed exposures on the same roll of film . . .
not unless you can cut a roll apart and develop each part separately.
If left on one roll, gremlins are sure to jinx part of it.

Double Speed

For instance, new Super-Anscochrome is rated at 100 ASA. Its speed can be doubled to 200 ASA but it takes longer development.

Suppose a fan in an experimental mood decided to try a few shots at 200 ASA rating after shooting a batch of exposures at the normal 100 rating. If the film is given normal processing, then the experimental double-speed exposures would be underdeveloped; if the roll is processed longer to favor the 200 ASA rating, then all the normal exposures would suffer by over-development.

To get around the gremlins, keep all your exposures equivalent for any one roll of film. For experimenting, shoot an entire roll at the 200 ASA rating but use a light meter for accurate reading. This will give you extra speed, extra depth of field and in some cases and uniform development for all the exposures.

Elementary Facts

If I hadn't seen the gremlins get after two people in my own office recently, I wouldn't think it would be necessary to remind snapshoot-ers about the elementary facts of photo life.

First, don't go on a trip with a new or strange camera without testing a roll of film or at least knowing how everything works.
Secondly, check the basic settings of a camera at the start of each new shooting session.

In the first case an editor borrowed a camera a few moments before boarding a plane, managed to stuff it with film and snap picture number one. Up popped a high-flying gremlin who carefully obscured a minute release lever. Because our editor couldn't find it, picture number two never was taken.

In the second case, an associate shot four rolls of film on a short trip. He used a simple, almost foolproof camera but only the first few pictures were sharp . . . the remainder were all badly blurred.

It was a sneaky gremlin! When my friend wasn't looking, the grem-lin brushed his hand across the controls and switched the speed setting from 1 (instantaneous) to B (bulb). Then he made sure to provide interesting subject matter so

Will Check Chester County Schools To Stop Segregation

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Instruction Department this week will make on the spot checks of two Chester County schools to determine what steps have been taken to wipe out racial segregation.

Dr. Carl Seifert, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said he and other department officials will make "personal visitations" Thursday to the schools in Kennett Square and Coatesville.

"We found admitted racial segregation in these two schools last spring along with the same condition at the Steelton School in Dauphin County," Dr. Seifert told a newsmen.

"I have worked closely with the Steelton school officials and I am convinced they have cleared up their problem as much as they can for the present," he said.

Seek Change
However, he explained, department officials have not had any personal contact with operators of either of the two Chester County schools since late last spring when the department ordered certain correctional steps be taken.

"Actually, I am convinced from what I have heard that those two schools have taken the steps they agreed to take to eliminate the segregation," Seifert said.

"But we intend to make the personal inspection and see first-hand what exactly has been done," he added.

He said no further integration can be accomplished at Steelton until a proposed new school building is completed there expected in time for the next school term in September, 1958.

Blames Facilities
"Actually, I don't feel that we ever had a segregation problem in Pennsylvania schools any more than the facilities didn't lend themselves to complete integration," he explained.

"Residents of Kennett Square and Coatesville took the whole matter lightly when they admitted to segregation because they have been working hard to gradually eliminate it for years as the facilities became available," he said.

A department survey last spring showed that the three schools practiced Negro pupil segregation in the school system.

Seifert said a new survey by questionnaire is being prepared for all the schools of the state to determine if any other institutions practice segregation which is banned by law in Pennsylvania.

He said the new survey would ask for more detailed information and "would allow us a better set of facts and figures on which to make our determination."

"Depending on what we find from this survey, we may send quite a few men into the field to personally inspect these institutions," he said.

CLAIMS U. S. WILL WIN MISSILE RACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, said today he is confident "we will not be outdistanced" in the race to develop an intercontinental missile.

Quarles said in a speech prepared for the United States Conference of Mayors that this country "does not expect to be beaten in this ballistic missile race."

However, he cautioned against any American complacency, saying, "The danger isn't that we will be attacked today, but that we will so lower our guard that we might be attacked tomorrow."

Quarles' speech was approved in advance by the White House. Like President Eisenhower, Quarles termed "boastful" the Russian claim to have tested successfully an intercontinental missile. Quarles didn't challenge the Soviet claim as untrue, but he said it was designed to convey "an impression that substantially exceeded the truth."

Congressmen Are Checking State Unemployment Areas To Get Federal Aid Quickly

By JOHN KENIG JR.

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting a watch-and-wait attitude, some Pennsylvania congressmen are attempting to combat spots of unemployment in the Keystone State before the second session of the 85th Congress opens Jan. 7.

Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) said today he will consult with labor and management leaders in his district to determine what steps should be taken to relieve unemployment in the Erie area immediately.

Erie is the latest to join the sizable list of Pennsylvania metropolitan centers regarded as having a labor surplus. The lake city area recently was placed by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in "Class D"—cities with 6 to 9 percent of their working force jobless. Johnstown also is in that group.

Kearns, who said he has already talked with Erie Chamber of Commerce officials, said he will tour the area on Thursday in an attempt to gather data on the immediate future outlook on employment.

"I want to find out just how serious the situation is," Kearns told a newsmen.

He said a preliminary look caused him to believe the employment picture "transitional", with layoffs due to manufacturers shifting to new types of orders with a good chance of picking up the slack later.

Decision Follows Study

On the basis of his study, he said, he will decide whether to ask federal government aid in placing defense contracts and other business in the area.

Rep. Carrigg (R-Pa.) already has advanced to this stage. Carrigg has accompanied two large delegations from Scranton to the Pentagon in attempts to prolong production at the Scranton Ordnance plant, where extensive layoffs have been ordered.

And, in Scranton itself, Carrigg has been meeting with local interests to devise ways of bringing in new industry. One possible step, he said, lies in organizing a "small business clinic" in cooperation in cooperation with federal government agencies to work up a business-attracting agenda.

Worst State Areas
Scranton, Altoona and the Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton area are listed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics as having 9 to 12 per cent unemployment in their labor forces, the worst proportion of any in Pennsylvania.

The most prosperous area in the state, from the standpoint of percentage of jobless at Allentown-Bethlehem with between 1.5 and 2.9 per cent. The national average is 3 per cent.

Pennsylvania cities with between 3 and 6 per cent unemployment are Harrisburg, Lancaster, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading and York.

Other Areas
All of these are classified as "metropolitan areas," defined as commuting areas or territories in which a worker may change his job but not necessarily have to change his residence to get to work conveniently.

A number of smaller city areas are listed as having above 6 per cent unemployment. These are Berwick - Bloomsburg, Clearfield-DuBois, Lewistown, Lock Haven, Pottsville, Sunbury, Shamokin - Mount Carmel and Uniontown - Conneville.

SOME BELIEVE STEVENSON MAY RUN 3RD TIME

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some influential Democrats are speculating that Adlai E. Stevenson may be working himself into a receptive mood toward a third presidential nomination.

Stevenson said last December, after his second defeat by President Eisenhower, "I will not run again for the presidency." He did not embellish this statement.

There is every evidence that at the time Stevenson meant exactly what he said. There is no concrete evidence he has changed his mind since.

He said again yesterday he will not be a candidate in 1960. And he added, under questioning in a television interview, that a suggestion he might be drafted is "preposterous."

Cites Recent Tour
But a prominent Democratic senator who was active in Stevenson's 1956 campaign said he has become convinced that unless some other Democrat develops unexpected strength, Stevenson is likely to become available again. The senator, who asked that his areas concerning the importance of this proposed legislation.

Numerous bills reached both the House and Senate during the recently concluded session to provide loan programs and direct grants to aid industry to locate in economically depressed areas to create new jobs. All remained bottled up in committee.

Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) and others, however, affirm they will work for passage again in the second session beginning in January.

WINS THIRD STATE ARCHERY TOURN

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — For the third consecutive year Gerald Walker of Berlin, Somerset County, holds the state men's class A expert field archery championship. He scored 1,360 points during the two-day tournament which closed here yesterday. National field champion Jay Peake of Charleroi placed second with 1,261 points. Joe Martell of Industry was third with 1,238.

Tom Lepsic, also of Industry, won the Class B expert title by compiling 1,139 points. Robert Steward of Osceola Mills was second with 1,016 points, followed by John Scott of Reynoldsville with 1,007.

Genevieve Husted of Perkiomenville successfully defended her women's expert bowman title with 990 points. Mona Guth of Fryburg was second with 883 and Nellie Baer of Reading third with 861.

name not be used, mentioned Stevenson's recent six-week tour of Europe and Africa. He said he regards that tour as one of the signs the former candidate is keeping himself abreast of world developments to be ready for anything that might happen in the future.

"He isn't going abroad just because he likes to travel," this senator commented.

Nomination Is Tempting
The presidential nomination looks very tempting to a number of Democrats now. Eisenhower won't be running. Republicans are squabbling among themselves. These Democrats think 1960 may be the year in which the voters decide it's time for a change again.

All of this means the field is likely to be thick with aspirants—a situation that might have some advantages for Stevenson, who has made a lot of friends among party organization workers.

LARGE CROWD OPENS MISSION AT ST. ALOYSIUS

A very large crowd was present in St. Aloysius Catholic Church Sunday evening for the opening of the week's mission to be conducted by the Rev. Basil Lynch, director of the Franciscan Mission Board, Mission House, Third Order Regular, at Loretto. Father Lynch celebrated the 7 o'clock mass on Sunday and spoke at both masses, briefly, regarding the special graces and blessings which come to a parish on the occasion of a mission and how important it is for every man, woman and child to make every effort to attend the mission services.

On Sunday afternoon, the missionary priest held a special service for the infants and pre-school children of the congregation who will not be attending the other mission services; he blessed each one individually and consecrated them to the Blessed Mother. Sunday was the feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Daily Masses This Week
Masses will be held daily this week at 5:30 and 8 a.m., with the children of the school attending the 8 o'clock mass. The children will have their own mission sermons during the day. Services each evening will begin at 7:30 p.m., and confessions will be heard after each service. The sermon subject at the opening service last evening was on the subject of "Salvation." Father Lynch will speak tonight on "The Mercy Of God"; on Tuesday, "Purity — The Image Of God"; Wednesday, "Christian Marriage"; Thursday, "Family Life"; Friday, "Discouragements Of Life"; Saturday, "Mary, Mother Of God" and the closing service on Sunday, "The Bread Of Life."

Next Sunday at the 7 a.m. Mass, the Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a body. There will be reception of new members into the society and the annual Holy Name Breakfast will be held in the parish hall, following the mass, and will be served by the women of the parish. The Saturday night parties will be omitted on September 14 and 21, but will be resumed on September 28.

Miss America Claims Main Interest Is Music Education

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—What is Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur, the new Miss America, like? The 20-year-old blonde, green-eyed beauty from Denver, Colo., told newsmen at a breakfast press conference on the beach yesterday that:

Her main interest is completing her college education in music, and she plans to use the $5,000 scholarship that goes with the title toward that goal.

She'd like to work in music or on the stage for a year or two after college and hopes to get married when she's 24. After marriage, she wants to continue her work in music.

She likes to swim, train and ride horses, ski, and adores tailored clothes. Her favorite colors are green and blue.

No Steady Beau

She has no steady boy friend, thinks singer Perry Como is tops, admires singer Jane Froman and likes steaks medium-rare.

She admits to having been a "brat" as a child and said she used to spy on a sister's parties. She thinks the father should be the head of the family.

As might be expected, Miss Van Derbur thinks the Miss America pageant offers wonderful opportunities to a girl.

The dimpled beauty queen, who stands 5 feet 8½, weighs 130 pounds and measures 35-25-36, was crowned Saturday night by the outgoing Miss America, Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., before a nationwide television audience and a crowd of 20,000 in Convention Hall. Although she got only an hour's sleep after the Coronation ball, she looked fresh and radiant as she greeted newsmen and photographers the following morning.

"I feel wonderful," she said. Immediately after the press conference, she was whisked off to New York City to start her reign. The new beauty queen, a University of Colorado junior who had her debut last year, has three sisters.

Her father Francis S. Van Derbur owns a group of mortuaries and runs an insurance business in Denver.

Other Scholarships

First runner-up in the contest was Miss Georgia, Jody Elizabeth Shattuck. The 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Atlanta won a $3,000 scholarship.

Third was Miss Oklahoma, Mary Nancy Denner, 21, Alva, who won a $2,500 scholarship, followed by Miss California, Lorna M. Anderson, 18, Sacramento, and Miss Florida, Dorothy Maria Steiner, 20, Boca Raton, both of whom won $2,000 scholarships.

In addition to her $5,000 scholarship, Miss America's other prizes include $5,000 in cash, an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 from personal appearances during the year of her reign and the chance to travel about 150,000 miles, including three trips to Europe.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—If one could watch the American-Russian disarmament talks from the moon—without loyalty to either side—they'd probably look like the longest conversational joke in history.

They've been going on periodically for more than 10 years. The latest in the series began March 18 and broke up last week. Now they'll be resumed in the United Nations. No doubt they'll continue for years.

Neither side wants to be blamed for refusing to talk disarmament. Each will try to get the maximum propaganda benefit from whatever it proposed and the other would not agree to.

Keep Making Weapons

Each side in the recent talks laid down conditions which the other would not meet, although these conversations were aimed at only limited disarmament as a starting point.

During all these years of talking both sides have been in a breakneck race to develop weapons capable not only of defending themselves but of annihilating each other, if necessary.

The talks probably will continue until both sides feel they have reached a peak in their military-scientific development and have built up an arsenal which needs no more additions.

Then, if they do agree, it may be only on making no more weapons. It's unlikely, in their present state of mutual suspicion, that they will agree to destroy or give up weapons they've already acquired at gigantic cost.

Disarmament For Off

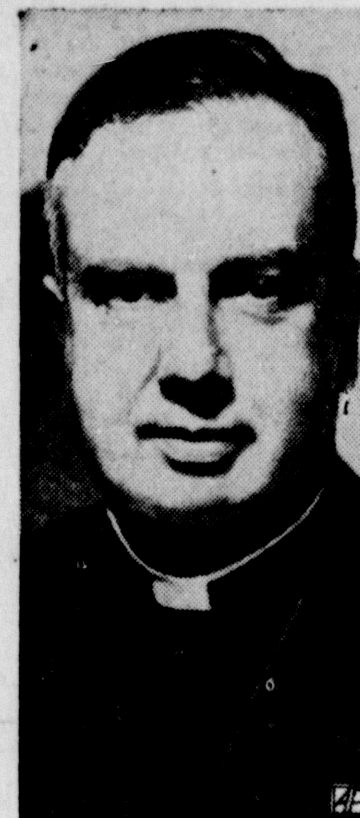

In short, disarmament looks a long way off.

Both sides, for example, have raced to develop the intercontinental ballistic missile, which can travel unmaned 5,000 miles or more.

It could for instance travel from Moscow to New York, or vice versa, in about 30 minutes and, with its hydrogen warhead, wipe out a city. The Russians claim to have the lead.

The United States and Russia are at war now anyway—although not in a shooting war. In the end it could be just as deadly. Both are struggling to win the allegiance of the rest of the world.

So long as that continues, it is difficult to conceive of either

WILL KEEP IKE POSTED ABOUT LITTLE ROCK

NEWPORT R. I. (AP)—Vacationing President Eisenhower instructed the Justice Department to keep him swiftly posted today on any developments in the school integration crisis at Little Rock, Ark.

Meanwhile, there were indications the President might act during the day on the history-making civil rights bill Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned Aug. 30.

Administration officials look for Eisenhower to sign the bill. Among other things, it would let the government enforce the right to vote with court injunctions.

Golfed On Sunday

Atty. Gen. Brownell advised Eisenhower yesterday, in a telephone conference, that an FBI report on the facts in the Little Rock case almost certainly would be filed with U.S. District Court there today.

Eisenhower arranged another round of golf today at the Newport Country Club after a work session at the temporary White House at the U.S. naval base on Coaster's Harbor Island.

The President attended church services yesterday at a chapel on the base. In the afternoon he golfed while Mrs. Eisenhower, looking well after her Aug. 6 operation, went for a three-hour boat ride in Narragansett Bay.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Donald L. Gibson, 28, of Richlandtown was held in Bucks County prison today on a charge of homicide in the death of a country store operator. Police said the two argued over a grocery bill.

40,000 FARMERS GET GAS REFUND

HARRISBURG (AP)—Refunds of state gasoline taxes will be made to more than 40,000 farmers who paid the levy on fuel used in running their farms.

The State Board of Finance and Revenue said in a report to Gov. Leader that the average rebate would be $100 a farmer, with some 43,000 farmers expected to seek the rebate before the Sept. 30 deadline for filing.

The expected number of applicants would be nearly double the 21,845 who applied last year. Of that total 3,000 claims could not be completed because applicants failed to supply information required by law.

The gas rebate is made to farmers under special legislation. This year's refund will cover the fiscal period from July 1, 1956, through June 30, 1957.

ELECTRICIANS' STRIKE ENDS: PAPERS RESUME

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A wage strike which shut down the two daily St. Louis newspapers for two days ended late yesterday, allowing the Globe Democrat and the Post Dispatch to resume operations.

The morning Globe Democrat was published last night, and the afternoon Post Dispatch resumes publication today.

The newspapers couldn't publish any of their Sunday news editions but delivered feature sections and comics which had been prepared previously. The Post-Dispatch also missed its Saturday afternoon editions.

A two-year contract authorizing a 30-cent hourly wage increase for striking electricians was approved by union members last night. They are members of Local 1, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Pickets withdrawn

Pickets were withdrawn at once, and KSD-TV, the television station of the Post-Dispatch, ended its weekend blackout at 6:49 p.m. KSD, the newspaper's radio station also located in the Post-Dispatch building, was off the air in the early hours of the strike Saturday but returned after three hours of silence by transmitting from East St. Louis, Ill.

The new contract includes an 18-cent hourly increase in the first year and 12 cents in the second. The union sought increases of 30, 32 and 34 cents an hour, respectively, for men receiving $3.25 an hour for day work, $3.35 for the first night shift and $3.40 for the second night shift. The newspapers offered a 25-cent boost and opposed shift differentials.

Ranchers in New Guinea in the south Pacific are using DC-3 freight planes to transport cattle.
